CUT THAT OUT!

One day, Bertie Bird was talking with Phineas Pheasant, a new woodland friend of his.

"Dear me," Phineas sighed, "it's moving time again, and how I hate to go to all that fuss and bother! But I'll just have to do it, because the hunting season opened today."

"Why don't you just go into hiding until it's over again?" Bertie suggested helpfully.

"I wish I could," Phineas replied wistfully. "But those pesky bird dogs flush me out, no matter where I hide. I'll just have to move, like I do every year at this time."

"Well," Bertie said, after considering Phineas's problem, "it just seems to me that instead of flying right out in plain sight every time a bird dog came along, you'd be better off to run away on the ground."

"Oh, sure, sure," Phineas replied tartly. "That's a fine idea, but the only trouble is, I don't always see the dogs in time to get up and scamper."

As Bertie and Phineas continued to discuss the problem, they failed to notice a long-tailed dog scouting around in the vicinity. The dog was almost on top of them before Phineas fluttered skywards with a loud cry of alarm.

Bertie was so startled by his friend's sudden cry that he quickly flew along after him, calling, "Wait for me!"

"Now then, you see what I mean?" Phineas panted when they came to rest again in another part of the woods.

"Golly, that's not fair!" Bertie twittered testily. "If it wasn't for those dogs, you could go on hiding from the hunters all season long."

"I could hide from the dogs, too, if I were only able to spot them soon enough," Phineas reminded Bertie. "But I guess there isn't anything I can do about that, so I might as well set about moving again."

"Wait a minute," Bertie pleaded, a sudden idea coming to his mind. "If the hunters thought your section of the woods was vacant, they wouldn't bother to hunt here any more, would they?"

"I guess not," Phineas nodded eagerly. "What's your plan?"

"You just follow me for a day or so," Bertie advised with a sly twitter, "and I'll bet'cha you won't be bothered by hunters and bird dogs for the rest of the season. They're going to discover suddenly that it isn't worth their while to tramp around in your neck of the woods."

The following days were filled with furious activity for Bertie. His plan for helping his friend elude the hunters required that he be constantly on the wing from morning to night. But there came a time, a week later, when there wasn't a single hunter left in Phineas's section of the woods.

"Well," Bertie panted triumphantly as he stopped to rest with Phineas in the tall grass one morning. "I guess the word got around among the hunters, all right. They've called their bird dogs off and gone to another part of the woods."

"You had to do a lot of flying in order to keep me warned of bird dogs approaching," Phineas clucked happily. "And I had to do a lot of running in order to stay out of sight. But we've beaten them at their own game. Congratulations, Bertie!"

"Thank you, my fine feathered friend," Bertie trilled proudly. "I make a pretty good dog bird, if I do say so myself!"

Here's how your team or league can get a new BASEBALL PARK FREE!

Any amateur team or league can win—and you don't even have to collect the most bags to do it!

You enter as a team or league and all of the players on your team or in your league collect empty bags of Kraft Caramels and Kraft Fudgies. (You can even get friends, relatives and neighbors to save bags for you!) Then, the team or league that sends in not the most bags, but the most bags per player, gets the $20,000 Baseball Park.

So whether you come from a big city or small town, enter as a team or league, have 20 players on your team or only nine, you can win because what really counts in this contest is good, old-fashioned teamwork.

Follow these EASY RULES to get a BASEBALL PARK for your team!

1. To enter, just collect empty bags from Kraft Caramels or Kraft Fudgies (or both) purchased through ordinary retail outlets for normal household use.
2. Send your bags plus an official entry blank signed by the manager or representative of your team or league to Kraft Ball Park Contest, 250 W. 87th St., Chicago 20, Ill. The manager or representative who signs the entry blank must be an adult. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, August 31, 1960, and received by September 10, 1960.
3. If you need more than one package to send your bags, mark each package with the name and address of your team or league as shown on the entry blank. All of the bags which you submit must be sent at the same time and must be accompanied by a single official entry blank also sent at the same time.
4. The team or league which sends in the most bags per player will be named the First Prize Winner. All additional prize winners will be selected in the same manner. In case of ties, only those teams or leagues which are tied will be asked to submit an essay of 100 words or less on the subject, Why We Need A New Baseball Park. Essays will be judged on the basis of originality and sincerity.
5. The First Prize consists of more than $16,000 worth of baseball park equipment plus $4,000 in cash to be used to pay for installation of this equipment and construction of press box and dugouts. First Prize does not include land, but this equipment will be erected on any land designated by the winning team or league. Or, the winning team or league may elect to receive $20,000 in cash to spend on the purchase of land or baseball equipment for a baseball park.

6. The decision to accept as First Prize either the baseball park equipment (plus construction allowance), or the $20,000 in cash, must be made in writing and delivered to Kraft Foods no later than Oct. 15, 1960. The decision to accept equipment or cash as First Prize, as well as all other questions with regard to this or any other prize, shall be determined by the manager or representative named on the winning entry blank, and his decision will be final. All prizes will be delivered on or about Dec. 1, 1960.

7. A player shall be defined as any individual who is defined as a player by the official rules or regulations of the league in which his or her team plays, or, in the case of players on teams which do not play in leagues having official rules or regulations defining players, as any individual who has participated in one or more practice sessions or games.

8. Any officially organized amateur baseball team or league, or any amateur team or league officially sponsored by a recognized civic or commercial organization, comprised entirely of players 18 years old or younger in the continental United States may enter unless located in Wisconsin or in any state or municipality where such promotions are prohibited, taxed, or otherwise restricted.

9. All entries become the property of Kraft Foods, and the decision of the judges shall be final. Winners will be notified by mail.
